WILSON'S GREAT SPEECHES

DEMOCRATIC PRINCIPLES ARE STATED IN CLEAR LANGUAGE.

Labor Day Speech Deals Forcefully With Wage Problem—Another on Immigration.

Governor Woodrow Wilson is making a few speeches each week. They are the best expression of Democratic principles the country has had for a generation. They are in the best English, and delightful reading. The argument for Democratic principles is put in such a forceful way, and unanswerable that thousands should be convinced by them.

Wilson on Immigration.

Governor Woodrow Wilson spoke last week for the first time in New York City to a company of editors of newspapers printed in foreign languages and told them on what basis he would regulate the immigration to this country.

"If we can hit upon a standard which admits every voluntary immigrant," he said, "and excludes those who have not come from their own nation with their own purpose of making a home and a career for themselves, but have been induced by steamship companies or others to pay the passage money, then we will have what we all agree upon as Americans. There is the stimulating breath of hope in every part of the platform of the new party except that which touches the tariff and the trusts.

"There is this very singular feature about the platform of the new party. It has two sides and two tones. It speaks warm sympathy with practically every project of social betterment to which men and women of broad sympathies are now turning with generous purpose, and on that side it is refreshing to read. But that is not the part of the platform that reads like a programme. It is a proclamation of sympathy rather than indication of the direction in which the leaders of the party would lain some time more.

"There is a plank in the programme which speaks of establishing minimum or living wage, for woman workers, and I suppose that we may assume that the principle is not in the long run meant to be confined in his application to women only. Perhaps we are justified in assuming that the third party looks forward to the general establishment by law of a minimum wage. It is very likely, I take it for granted, that if a minimum wage were established by law the great majority of employers would take occasion to bring their wage scale as nearly as might be down to the level of that minimum, and it would be very awkward for the working man to resist that process successfully because it would be dangerous to strike against the authority of the Federal Government.

"Moreover, most of his employers, at any rate practically all of the most powerful of his employers, would be wards and proteges of that very government which is the master of us all. The Government is to set up a commission whose duty it will be, not to check or defeat it, but merely to regulate it under rules which is itself to frame and develop. So that the chief employers will have this tremendous authority behind them; what they do they will have the license of the Federal Government to do, including the right to pay the wages approved by the Government.

"And it is worth the while of the workingmen of the country to recall that the attitude toward organized labor has been of the master consolidated interests whom the federal government is to take under its patronage as well as under its control. They have always been the stout opponents of organized labor and they have tried to undermine it in a great many ways. Some of the ways they have adopted have worn the guise of philanthropy and good will, and have no doubt been used, for all I know, in perfect good faith. Some of them have set up systems of profit-sharing, of compensation for injuries, and of bonuses and even pensions, but every one of these plans have merely bound their workingmen more tightly to themselves. Their rights under these various arrangements are not legal rights. They are merely privileges, which they enjoy so long as they remain in the employment and observe the rules of the great industries which employ them.

If they refuse to be weaned away from their independence they cannot continue to enjoy the benefits extended to them.

"When you have thought the whole thing out therefore, you will find that the programme of the new party legalizes monopolies and systematically subordinates workingmen to them and to plans made by the government both with regard to employment and with regard to wages. By what means except upon revolt, could we ever break the crust of our life again and become free men, breathing an air of our own choosing and living lives that we wrought out for ourselves? Perhaps this new and all-conquering combination between money and government would be benevolent to us, perhaps it would carry out the noble programme of social betterment, which so many credulously expect it to, but who can assure us of that? Who will give bond that it will be general and gracious and just and righteous? What man or set of men can make us secure assurance that it will take care of us and be good?

Rev. David Wills, D.D., LL.D., of Washington, D. C., born in Mummasburg almost ninety years ago, being now in his 90th year, and retaining all his intellectual force and strength, delivered an address that will be long remembered by every one present.

In discussing the political situation he said his paper, "The Evening Gazette," was Progressive Republican, and while supporting the regular Republican nominations of his State, would support Wilson and Marshall and that there were many people in his State who would do the very same thing.

THE SEPTEMBER MAGAZINES

THE LIFE OF LINCOLN BOILED INTO 16 SHORT PARAGRAPHS.

What a Child Should Take to School for Lunch—Aviation Not Dangerous.

What Lincoln Did

One more note of my father's I must give, writes Helen Nicolay in the September "Century," telling "Characteristic Anecdotes of Lincoln"—a summary in Mr. Nicolay's own handwriting, made when writing had become well-nigh impossible for him, of what Lincoln, his dearest friend and greatest hero, achieved and died for:

LINCOLN'S ACHIEVEMENTS.

Turned his defeat for the Senate into a success for the Presidency.

Took into the cabinet his rivals, and made them his ministers and servants.

Conquered the Rebellion.

Liberated the slaves.

Outwitted all the intrigues against him in cabinet and camp.

Gave his implacable rival the Chief-Judgeship.

Disarmed all criticism by shoulder-ing all faults.

Consolidated his party and increased his majorities.

Held the people to their great task.

Made the strongest argument for peace, and the best defense of war.

Gave in his Springfield Prayer, his Gettysburg Address and his Second Inaugural the most pathetic and eloquent utterances of his time.

"Forcible in speech and faultless in logic, he enriched the language with new thoughts, new definitions, new maxims, new parables and new proverbs."

"Was a true type and exemplar of his country, his race and his government.

Wore honor without pride, and wielded power without oppression.

Lived like a peasant by necessity of birth and fortune, reigned like a monarch by right representative instinct, native intellect, the wisdom of humility and love of his fellow-men.

Died a martyr and was wept by the civilized world."

What a Child Should Take to School for Lunch.

Fannie Merritt Farmer, cookery editor of the "Woman's Home Companion," writes an article entitled "School Luncheon" in the September number of that periodical. She gives 14 recipes for good things for children to eat at lunch, and by way of introduction says:

"The power of the child to grow mentally as well as physically, depends chiefly on his food. Children must have a relatively larger proportion of protein and fat in the diet than their elders. The baby receives his from milk and cereals, but the older child needs, in addition to these eggs, meat, and butter. Much of the pell-mell and stunted growth of some children is largely attributable to the lack of these very foods. As carbohydrates (sugars and starches), furnish the cheapest form of food, they are almost never found wanting, and often times are used to excess. The child's craving for sweets is a natural one, and should be gratified; but they should be eaten at the close of the meal. Milk, eggs, and meat are sources for furnishing mineral matter, but the chief value of fruit and vegetables lies in this food constituent."

"Never allow a child to go to school without a proper breakfast, of which a cereal, served with sugar and rich milk or cream, should form a principal dish. Do not forget that digestive processes go on very quickly in childhood, which makes the school luncheon important."

"In these days of Thermos bottles many children are provided with hot soup, cocoa, or milk. Whatever else goes with the luncheon-basket, sandwiches must hold first place. Cold, thinly sliced meat or chopped meat may be put between thin slices of buttered bread. Most children enjoy hard-boiled or stuffed eggs, and small glass jars with shelled nuts and raisins offer a change. Fresh fruit should be provided, and sweet chocolate by way of variety."

Aviation Not Dangerous.

Claude Grahame-White discusses the Safety of Flight in the September "Outing." In part, he says:

In the first place, I think it is very necessary to dispel the popular illusion that the risks of aviation are appalling great. The ordinary man regards the pilot of an aeroplane as an individual who runs a dreadful risk every time he makes an ascent. He is fostered in this belief by the great amount of space which has been devoted in popular journals to aerial catastrophes. It has become the habit to open a newspaper and exclaim, "Ah! another airman killed!" Thus the casual reader comes to form an opinion that the ranks of airmen are so steadily depopulated that there will soon be very few left.

As a matter of fact, quite the reverse is the case. The army of pilots is growing rapidly, that, even at the end of last flying season, there were estimated to be 1,000 men in the world capable of handling an aeroplane. nowadays, the lists of men who have scored a pilot's certificate are augmented each week so rapidly that it is impossible to keep count of all the newcomers to the pastime. And the important point to be made in this connection is: all this flying is being accomplished with diminishing risk to the pilots taking part in it.

The Most Orderly Community.

In all this wide, wide world the most orderly community is that of the Panama Canal Zone. Here is the least crime; here are the fewest misdeemors, the least exercise of the functions of the courts, the most industrious, the fewest idlers, absolutely no poor, equally conspicuous the absence of the rich.

With its steam-shovels working like sentient beings; its locomotives rushing about like screaming busybodies; its cement buckets skimming over the earth and riding the air to perform their varied tasks; with the long dirt-trains weaving and turning on their tortuous tracks like pythons; still the most persistent impression is of beauty, orderliness, and propriety.

The greatest public work the world has ever seen is carried on not only with unremitting diligence, enthusiasm, and honesty, but with elegance, a high standard of living, and a morale to which the oldest and most opulent cities have never attained. These are the words of truth and soberness. The problems of the engineer are greater than man has ever before encountered but in kind. The cubic yards of dirt and cement transcend experience, but only in bulk. It is the organization that is without precedent in the whole history of public works—it is this that is the eighth wonder of the world. In this organization there is no detail so minute not to have received attention; from the most puzzling problems in engineering to the American youth's love of ice-cream nothing seems to have been left unconsidered. This elaboration of details has doubtless been gradual; but to the visitor coming upon its completeness to-day, the impression is staggering, and not unmixed with envy.—From "The Family and the Panama Canal," by Mary Gay Humphreys, in the "September Scribner."

How a New Breed of Poultry Came To Be.

"Just because a White Wyandotte hen found a hole in a fence and crawled through, a new breed of poultry came into existence. There was a flock of Barred Plymouth Rocks on the other side of the fence, and, when eggs of the White Wyandotte were incubated, the birds which resulted were of a kind never seen before. With the size and shape of a Wyandotte, they were marked like Light Brahmas. Rev. B. M. Briggs, who had originated the White Wyandottes, was so well pleased with this accidental cross that he named and culled until he had fixed the type. Thus it is that new breeds are sometimes made. All this happened some time before the Columbian Exposition, in honor of which event the new breed was given the name of Columbian Wyandottes."—"Suburban Life" Magazine for September.

The Rich Old Woman of the Farm.

In the current issue of "Farm and Fireside" appears the following:

"Long, lean, skinny, cadaverous, for half a century she had cooked and washed and patched for a large family; now she's gone. And the sign on her tombstone says, 'At Rest,' and I hope it's so.

"It was one of the richest farms in the community, the work was always forward; the crops were always in first, the ambition of the entire force seemed to be to beat the other fellow; beat him on time, skin him on a deal, get the best of him any old way.

"The words 'At Rest' signify a want of rest, signify a lot of labor, signify want and privation, a hungering for the better things of life, the things which make life worth living, the little pleasures, and for courtesies and kindness which mark the line between 'the Old Woman' and 'Mother.'

"And do you know, I half believe she was glad to get away from a place where the money which might have gone for some of the conveniences and latter-day necessities was spent for more land, to raise more corn to feed more hogs to buy more land: the money which might have bought the little inexpensive household necessities, the kitchen-sink, the bath, the heating and lighting systems, instead was put into land to increase the prestige of 'the Old Man.' Requiescat in pace."

Progressive.

Webster says "progressive" means going onward, advancing. This might be alright in some things, but in a Roosevelt point of view the people of America are not yet ready for the issue. They are not ready to be plunged into a war with three or four nations and be wiped out of existence. Roosevelt should be taught the following facts. In the start of our great country when men were worthy of an office the people knew it first, but today the office seeker first finds it out. Then again, places sought men then, and sought them on the ground of merit. But these times have changed and men have changed with them. Every American knows that Roosevelt's name with others equals, and some better, came before the Chicago convention, and he, Roosevelt, as the press of the country asserts, had the better of the other candidates, he had a backing of Wall Street of over three million dollars. The great body of delegates were aware of these facts and of the several from which no lead followed his former nominations, and the vote of the delegates at the Chicago convention said, Mr. Roosevelt whenever money is allowed to make a residential or other public officials and the laws of the land, then will be made and administered in the interest of money. Hence Roosevelt's policies will be to transfer this government into the hands of classes to be administered by the oppression of the masses. We notice where some United States Senators have bought their offices and we notice when some have offered several millions for a seat in the United States Senate. Is there not something wrong when men will pay millions for an office worth five or ten thousand dollars. When we were a boy, we heard people say that the way to the United States Senate was paved with sense. To-day under our progressive rulings it's paved with dollars. Such places used to be occupied by wise statesmen, but during these progressive times by wily, wealthy, wicked politicians. "A government of the people, by the people, and for the people," must be a government founded upon the virtue and intelligence of the people, and these characteristics must prevail in the selection of those who conduct the affairs of this government. Now we as American citizens all know how bad Roosevelt desires to run this government, and that on the progressive plan. Now Roosevelt is defeated honestly at a regular national Republican convention, we find him now having a convention of his own, not another man shall be named as a candidate at this convention but Roosevelt, and no delegate shall have a chance to vote for a candidate for the office of the Presidency of the United States but Roosevelt. If this is a free and independent government, and such actions emanating from one man is progressiveness, the quicker the people of the United States make way with such dictatorship or kingly authority the better for our land and nation.

When Woodrow Wilson was nominated at Baltimore convention he did not object measuring swords with a number of men. He desired the motto, populi vox Dei. The voice of the people is the voice of God, but under the progressive conventions, no one had a say but Roosevelt. Now dear reader go with me to your capital city with its hundreds of church steeples and you will find hundreds of police keeping the way open so the vast multitudes can crowd the theatres, picture shows and all other places of worldly and popular amusements to the very door posts, even on the Sabbath day, and the churches all empty. Preachers do not know the cause of it. Why it's progressiveness. It has now split my own church that of the Brethren, the half of the church to-day are called progressives and the other half the old order.

If our people can agree as touching any thing on earth will God place them together in Heaven. Through progressive religion the one-half of the Brethren Church has strayed, progressiveness has not only destroyed the Christian religion but it has now attracted the good old Republican party and has divided it asunder and it has thrown a crum to the Democratic party with the hope that there may be some weak-minded that they can succeed in getting their support. S. S. W. HAMMERS.

The Renewal & Strain.

Vacation is over. Again the school bell rings at morning and at noon, again with tens of thousands the hardest kind of work has begun, the renewal of which is a mental and physical strain to all except the most rugged. The little girl that a few days ago had roses in her cheeks, and the little boy whose lips were then so red you would have insisted that they had been "kissed by strawberries," have already lost something of the appearance of health. Now is a time when many children should be given a tonic, which may avert much serious trouble, and we know of no other so highly to be recommended as Hood's Sarsaparilla, which strengthens the nerves, perfects digestion and assimilation, and aids mental development by building up the whole system.

Impostor Cur.

That he sold him an old dog with his teeth filed for an imported English fox hound was the charge made last week by John E. Hornberger of Lititz, against Joseph T. Morris, who has been committed to Moyamensing prison for trial at the next term of the United States district court on the charge of using the mails to defraud.

Morris, who operated a stock farm in eastern Lancaster county, had a hearing before United States Commissioner Lowell of Lancaster and was committed in default of bail.

Hornberger was only one of scores of persons all over the country who ordered stock of various kinds by mail. Some never received their goods it is charged, while others received old animals or poultry or stale eggs.

Although his stock farm consisted of nothing but a shed, Morris advertised as a dealer in all kinds of fancy stock. Evidence was produced to show that Morris bought up homeless dogs and other animals and then shipped them out as thoroughbreds. A Cuban resident ordered and paid for a cow that he never received.

DANGER IN DELAY.

Kidney Diseases Are Too Dangerous for Gettysburg People to Neglect.

The great danger of kidney troubles is that they so often get a firm hold before the sufferer recognizes them. Health will be gradually undermined. Backache, headache, nervousness, faintness, soreness, lumbago, urinary troubles, dropsy, gravel and Bright's disease often follow in merciless succession. Don't neglect your kidneys. Help the kidneys with Doan's Kidney Pills, which are so strongly recommended right here in this locality.

C. G. Shank, Biglerville, Pa., says: "We have used Doan's Kidney Pills in our family and are well satisfied with the results. A member of the family complained of kidney trouble and got no benefit until she used Doan's Kidney Pills, which she saw recommended in the paper. This remedy strengthened the kidneys and caused the pains and aches to disappear."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N.Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

For The Nervous Woman,

Or the woman who experiences hot flashes nothing is so good to soothe, quiet and calm the nervous system as a pure glycerine extract of native medical plants, and made without alcohol, which has been sold by druggists for the past forty years, and most favorably known as Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. In younger years some women suffer from dizziness, or fainting spells, hysteria, headache, bearing-down feelings and pain. All these symptoms of irregularity and female disturbance are relieved by the use of this famous "Prescription" of Doctor Pierce.

As a powerful, invigorating tonic "Favorite Prescription" imparts strength to the whole system, and in particular to the organs distinctly feminine.

For over-worked, "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," house-keepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, it is an excellent appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

"My disease was called retroversion," writes Mrs. Lydia McDonald, of Tecumseh, Mich., Route 1. "I had nervous complaints and they would never leave me. Then I had influenza and the doctor said I had a功能障碍 kidney. I doctor seven months with our family physician. He said I would have to have an operation. Then I stopped taking his medicine. After taking three bottles of Dr. Pierce's medicines I have not had any nervous chills or weak spells. I am better than for years."

"My daughter is now taking the 'Prescription' and Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, also the 'Pellets' for nervousness and weak, tired feeling. These remedies have helped her ever so much in a short time. We have great faith in your medicine for female troubles."

RUNK & PECKMAN'S REALTY REPORT

Last week we made three more good sales: two farms and a mill property. The time to sell is when you have a buyer. List your property with us at a fair price and we will furnish the buyer. We cannot and will not try to sell a property for more than it is worth for we must serve the buyer as well as the seller. Many of our customers are tenants who have saved enough money to pay a portion of the purchase money on a farm of their own. We can help them to borrow the balance and lenders will not make loans on properties purchased at fictitious values.

If you are a tenant and have some money saved up, why not buy a farm of your own. You can pay for it with the money you are now making for your landlord and you will have the satisfaction of knowing that everything you do to improve the property will be so much money made for yourself. Come to see us. Consult our list and we may be able to show you the very property that will suit you. If we do not have what you want, you will not be asked to buy what you don't like.

WILSON CAMPAIGN FUND.

The COMPILER hereby announces that it will receive popular subscriptions for the election of Wilson and Marshall. The National Democratic Organization has put the stamp of approval upon Democratic newspapers undertaking to help in the gathering of campaign funds. The day is past when candidates and party should be placed under obligations for large contributions. The day is here for the Democratic people to finance their own elections. THE "STAR" ON ELDON.

The "Star" last week editorially expressed itself about Mr. Eldon and his presence at the Washington Party meeting, and putting it as mildly as possible said his attitude "has occasioned no little surprise among staunch Republican friends," and "having solicited primary votes for a position on the Republican county ticket and standing, as that party's candidate, it is not expected that he will give encouragement to the formation of party that has for its purpose the destruction of the one that has honored him." There is only one price that should be paid for such treachery—defeat at the polls.

HOKE A BULL MOOSER.

John W. Hoke of Chambersburg, Republican, candidate for the State Senatorship, in the 33rd Senatorial District has been flirting with the Washington Party and last week official announcement was made that he had been decided upon as the Washington Party's nominee for the State Senate. It is inconceivable to us how staunch Republicans are going to be able to swallow such treachery to their party.

The "Repository" of Chambersburg in defining its position in last week's issue said among other things:

"Those who have enlisted under the Washington Party banner must be regarded as having left the Republican party as much as were those who were Keystoneites or in any way allied with former independent movements. Col. Roosevelt and his friends went to Chicago to secure the nomination at the hands of the Republican convention. They failed to do so and bolted that convention. They at once placed themselves in direct hostility to the Republican Party by their rule or ruin methods. They must be regarded as hostile to the interests of the Republican Party as are the Democrats."

The treachery of a Republican in accepting a nomination from the Bull Moose Party consists in the fact that no Republican can go on the Washington or Bull Moose ticket until he has given a pledge which places him in antagonism to the Republican party. The Washington Party in its State convention adopted among others the following resolution:

"Second. That the candidates for State Senate shall satisfactorily answer the pledge of the Republican State convention regarding the platform and legislation, and shall further agree not to vote for Penrose in the Senate or in joint convention and shall not take part in the Presidential contest against Roosevelt."

The appearance of the name of Mr. Hoke on the Bull Moose ticket means that he has given satisfactory pledges not to vote for Penrose for U. S. Senator and nominated by the Republicans to support their ticket, including Taft, he has agreed not to be true to Taft and his party and to take no part against Roosevelt.

How Taft Republicans can overlook such treachery and cast a vote for a candidate who is willing for his own selfish advancement to knife the party that has honored him with a nomination is beyond our understanding. We believe such traitors will get their deserts in defeat. The way to give John W. Hoke what is due him will be to vote for Wm. A. Martin.

VERMONT POINTS THE WAY.

Vermont has been called the barometer State. Whenever the Republican majority at the State election is September fell below 30,000 the country went Democratic in November. Last week the Republican party lost the majority at the State election in September in the history of the State. The Progressives had the low vote in spite of the wild flight of the original Bull Moose up and down the State. The Republicans had a plurality over the Democratic ticket of about 6,000. There was no election for the Vermont Constitution provides that State officers must have a majority and the election is thus thrown into the Legislature.

The "New York Sun," supporting Taft, in an editorial last week gave an idea of the landslide for Wilson from the Vermont vote as follows:

In the Vermont State election of 1908 almost identically the same number of votes were cast as this year. 61,460, as compared with 62,600, excluding minor party totals. In 1908 the Republican candidate for Governor had 45,800 votes, the Democratic 18,000. This year the Republican candidate had 22,200, the Democratic 29,100 and the Progressive 15,700. The Republican loss was thus 19,100 or 42.7 per cent. Of this loss the Democrats took 4,600 and the Progressives 13,100; the division was thus approximately one-fifth and four-fifths.

If the voters in the country at large should divide in November as those in Vermont did this week, the result in several of the more interesting States would be as follows on the basis of the election results of 1908:

Wilson, Taft, Roosevelt
New York ... 712,400 560,000 255,000
New Jersey ... 205,000 152,000 60,000
Ohio ... 523,000 328,000 195,000
Indiana ... 274,000 204,000 120,000
Massachusetts ... 178,000 153,000 50,000
Pennsylvania ... 515,000 430,000 255,000
Illinois ... 507,000 362,000 215,000

LAFAEAN ACCEPTS.

Hon. D. F. Lafean announced last week his acceptance of the Republican nomination for Congress in the Twentieth Pennsylvania District. Mr. Lafean will not be the candidate of the Washington Party, according to the press reports, because he has refused to take the Bull Moose pledge which requires "That candidates for Congress must pledge themselves in the event of the election of President being thrown into the House that they will vote in accordance with the vote cast in their districts for President, i.e., if Roosevelt should get a greater vote than Taft they will vote for Roosevelt for President, and will, during the term for which they have been elected, support progressive legislation, and shall not take part in the Presidential contest against Roosevelt." Mr. Lafean is quoted as saying, "I will not accept any nomination that attaches thereto a pledge or a promise." The result of this situation is that papers are in circulation in both York and Adams counties to give the Bull Moose nomination to Robert C. Bair, of York.

There is but one position for a Democrat. Support Wilson for President and support a Congressman who will support Wilson when Wilson is in the White House. This district will look foolish and small in a Democratic year if it does not send a Democrat to represent a big Democratic district in a Democratic Congress supporting a Democratic President.

Second Flower Show.

The second flower show brought together many beautiful flowers and greens at the Court House last Friday. The display while not as large as the first exhibition, was very pretty. It showed that many of our people are devoted to the culture of flowers and that the beauty of form and color appeals to many and lends its charm to the community.

The Misses Young were awarded the blue ribbon for their elaborate display of ferns and ornamental plants, a rare collection of them.

The names of the exhibitors and flowers exhibited are following:

PRESENT TARIFF
FOSTERS FRAUDS

Domestic Cotton Fabrics Sold
Americans as "Imported."

CHEATING THE CONSUMER

Less Than 2 Per Cent Comes From Abroad, but Americans Pay Exorbitant Price For Home Goods Because of Deception and Prohibitive Tariff.

By ROBERT KENNETH MACLEA,
(Formerly consulting expert of the tariff board.)

New York, Aug. 1.—The prohibitive tariff, revised upward by the Payne-Aldrich law, permits and fosters wholesale frauds upon the American consumer of cotton goods.

Less than 2 per cent of the cotton fabrics consumed in the United States comes from abroad, because the protective duties have been made so high that importation is unprofitable.

Yet fully one-third of the cotton piece goods going over retail counters is sold as "IMPORTED" or under names implying a foreign origin.

This deception is generally perpetrated upon the consumer for the purpose of obtaining exorbitant prices for domestic goods.

The consumer, believing the goods are imported and knowing that the tariff adds excessively to their cost, pays 50 to 100 per cent more than a fair price and does not suspect that he is being cheated.

Drains the Pocketbook.

Let us go straight to a specific example of the operation of this fraud. Take the tariff board's cloth sample No. 56, described as a "printed dimity." This is a medium priced cotton fabric known to almost every American housewife. What woman or girl hasn't possessed a dimity dress within the last few years? And if she went to the cotton goods counter and bought the material by the yard she no doubt saw such signs as:

IRISH DIMITY,
5c.
REAL IRISH DIMITY,
19 cts.

The World's tariff editor visited with me a department store in a New England city of 100,000 inhabitants and found recently a counter piled with these goods, placarded:

WE PROCURED SAMPLES OF ALL THEM. THERE WAS NOT ONE PIECE OF IMPORTED GOODS IN THE LOT. INVESTIGATION PROVED THAT THE STORE BUYER HAD PURCHASED THESE "IRISH" DIMITIES FROM A BOSTON JOBBER AT 10 CENTS A YARD AND THAT THEY WERE MADE IN A NEW ENGLAND MILL. HERE WAS A SUPPOSED "BARGAIN" IN A SUPPOSEDLY "IMPORTED" FABRIC, ON WHICH THE RETAILER WAS TAKING A PROFIT OF 90 PER CENT!

This happens to be a fabric representing the highest efficiency in American manufacturing. It is a class of goods in which we can compete advantageously with any country in the world. The tariff board's investigations discovered on sample No. 56 an American cost of production of 7 1/3 cents a yard. In all the mills investigated the board's representatives found that the low and high costs of manufacture of this fabric did not vary half a cent a yard.

WHO GETS THE PROFIT?
The manufacturer of this American dimity, that is sold as "imported" and "frish," does not get the excessive profit. In some instances the manufacturer does, but here he sells to the jobber at 8 cents, taking only a nominal manufacturing profit of two-thirds cent a yard. The jobber sells to the retailer at 10 cents, a 25 per cent margin for the jobber.

In Canada, with 25 per cent tariff, a cotton fabric costing 10 cents a yard would be sold to the consumer at 12½ cents.

THE TARIFF IN SUMMER DRESS FOR HOT-WEATHER READING

17 CENTS
OR 25?

15 1-5
CENTS

COTTON CURTAIN SERIM, FOUND IN MILLIONS OF HOMES, IS MADE IN AMERICA AT A COST THAT GIVES THE MANUFACTURER A PROFIT, SELLING IT TO THE PRINT WORKS AT 6 CENTS A YARD. THE PRINT WORKS SELLS TO THE JOBBER AT 10 1/2 CENTS, ALTHOUGH IT FINISHES THE GOODS AT A COST OF 1.37 CENTS. THE JOBBER ADDS 20 PER CENT, LAYING DOWN THE CURTAIN SERIM TO THE DEPARTMENT STORE AT 12 1/2 CENTS. THE RETAILER CHARGES THE AMERICAN HOUSEWIFE 10 TO 20 CENTS. MORE THAN LIKELY HE ADVERTISES IT AS "IMPORTED" AND SELLS IT FOR THE TOP PRICE, BECAUSE THE TARIFF IS SO HIGH THAT THE GENUINE IMPORTED GOODS CANNOT BE SOLD FOR LESS. IT COSTS JUST AS MUCH IN ENGLAND TO MAKE THIS CURTAIN MATERIAL, YET THE ENGLISH RETAILER SELLS IT 15.22 CENTS (7 1/2 PENCE) A YARD, AGAINST 19 CENTS UNDER THE AMERICAN TARIFF. WHY?

or sometimes at 15 cents if the pattern happened to be in special demand. In the United States, with its prohibitive tariff, the retail price is always much higher. The standard price retail is 15 cents for the fabric wholesaled at 10. But when the tariff is excessive—it is 54 per cent on this printed dimity—the dishonest retailer can "get away with" deception and double or more than double his normal profit by selling the domestic article as "imported." The retailer knows that he could not buy a genuine imported dimity of this quality from a foreign manufacturer's agent in New York for less than 15 1/2 or 16 1/2 cents, and the trade would recall this at 25. He compares the domestic and foreign fabrics and finds the American made is equal in every respect to the fabric from abroad. So he says to himself, "Why not sell it as foreign goods at a price that will make it attractive?"

Mill Men Pockets It.
In some cases the manufacturer takes the tariff favor for his own pocket. Tariff board sample No. 34 illustrates this. No. 34 is a fancy white goods used for dress wear. Its manufacturer encountered a fair demand for this material during the past season. Table No. 109 of the tariff board's report shows a manufacturing profit of 90 per cent. It costs to manufacture this cloth 12.16 cents a yard. The mill refuses to sell to any one excepting the jobber, and through this channel the cloth reaches the retailer at 22 1/2 to 25 cents a yard. The retailer charges the consumer 35 to 39 cents, according to location and local competition.

For comparison take the value of the fabric on weight. At the manufacturing cost of 12.16 cents a yard one pound of this goods is worth $1.23 as it leaves the mill. When it reaches the consumer (at 39 cents a yard) the price has been boosted to $4.20 a pound.

The manufacturing cost of this cloth in England is practically the same as here, yet the English manufacturer sells it for 15 1/4 cents a yard, the jobber at 17.26 cents and the retailer at 22 cents.

Bear in mind that the "difference in cost of production at home and abroad" in this class of fabric represented by sample No. 34 amounts to nothing, but the Payne-Aldrich tariff on it equals 55.89 per cent, or $1.23 cents per running yard.

Fancy goods of the type of sample No. 34 are products of the Lippitt-McColl class of mills. The Payne-Aldrich bill raised the duty on this cloth from 35 to 55.89 per cent. Is it any wonder that Senator Lippitt and Mr. McColl were interested in amending the Payne bill?—New York World

An Adams Co. Republican on Roosevelt and Eldon.
(Communicated.)

Mr. Editor:
We accord to every man his right to his political opinion, and at the same time claim it for ourself. We have our opinion as to the several candidates for President, nominated by the political parties, and especially, the candidate Theodore Roosevelt.

The question may be asked: Who are the leaders of this moral enthusiasm? Theodore Roosevelt? In Pennsylvania we have Bill Flynn, and the man who some time ago married Lillian Russell. Their moral powers are to be exerted to the utmost in the coming election. In Illinois we have the Harvester Trust people led by McCormick, the Boss of the Trust. In New York we have Perkins the Boss of the Steel Trust. In the other States, any old accumulation of political "has-beens," trust magnates and ambitious demagogues, all supporters of Theodore Roosevelt.

What then is this Theodore Roosevelt?

He is the same man who had been honored by the Republican party with the following political positions, viz.: Police Commissioner of New York City, Governor of the State of New York, Assistant Secretary of the Navy, Vice President and President of the United States.

He is wild, bold, and independent, a will despotic in its dictates, an energy that knows no limit, the most extraordinary man, perhaps, that in the annals of this country, ever occupied the President's chair!

In 1900 he was nominated at Philadelphia for Vice President. He was tossed in the Presidential chair by the bullet of the assassin. He stood at the bier of the martyred McKinley and vowed to continue his policy.

Standing at the bier of McKinley, he became the idol of the people and was afterwards elected President. Then the "Big Stick" replaced the soothing hand—the cool deliberate judgment was followed by unreasoning impetuosity—then a flood-tide of prosperity, followed by a pitiless panic!

As President he was a sworn supporter of the Constitution. He recommended laws, unconstitutional. An advocate of peace, himself receiving the "Nobel Prize," he insisted on mighty armaments. He plead for conserving our resources of coal and spent millions of the people's money for a spectacular display of "My Navy."

A born aristocrat, he for effect, wrings the grimy hand of the mechanic and joined the union. A world-be-dictator he has encouraged socialism. When he was the Executive he denounced the judiciary. Promising tariff reduction he silently passed it over to his successor, President Taft.

Advocating an income tax during his first presidential term, he consented to its elimination by the Republican convention at Chicago, that nominated him for President in 1904.

Starting out as an original, he flings Bryan's policies, which he formerly denounced and now makes them popular. He would reform our spelling to suit a passing fancy!

Claiming to be a Christian he would abolish, "In God we Trust" from our coins.

While he was President, trade was prostrated, wages were reduced, and government showed a deficit. A cowboy to him was greater than a statesman!

When President, among his political advisors were such men as Root, Aldrich, Penrose, Crane, Cannon, Payne and Gallingher, but after he had announced himself as a candidate for a Third Term and failed to control the National Republican Committee and majority of the delegates of the convention that re-nominated Taft, he denounced as "thieves and liars" because the majority of the convention refused to give him what Washington refused and Grant could not get.

One of the last men he put in the Annanias Club is Philander C. Knox, the Secretary of State, one of the members of Taft's cabinet. It is well known, that this same Root, Taft and Knox were members of Roosevelt's cabinet.

When we read the article in your last week's issue about the Bull Moose meeting at Hunterstown, we were unable to conceive how any Taft supporters can consistently support Mr. Eldon for the Legislature. If he is a supporter of Roosevelt he is no longer a Republican, and has no claim for the support of Republican party.

If the Bull Moose movement in Adams county has aroused no higher motive in its followers than trickery, treachery and appropriating Republican nominations—anything to get there—they are only following the latter day saints and their leader, as Archbishop Bill Flynn of Pittsburgh!

We repeat that no candidate has any right to masquerade as a Republican or ask for their support.

As a Republican, having voted for John C. If we can't vote straight we can help to defeat the Bill Flynn ticket.
